

Accelerate your students' learning by building interactive tests using our customisable app

Create customised test content

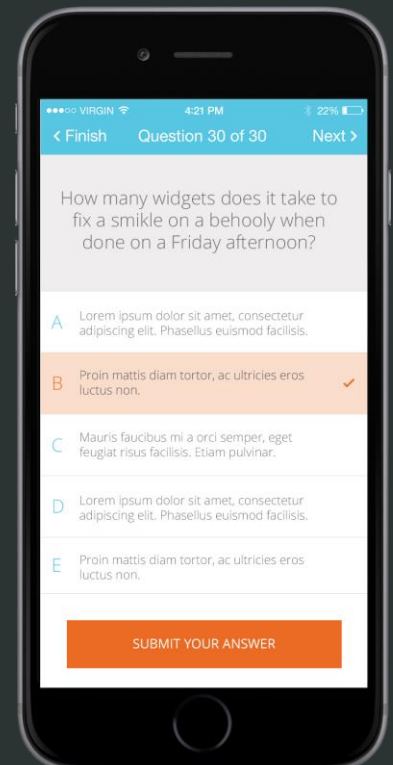

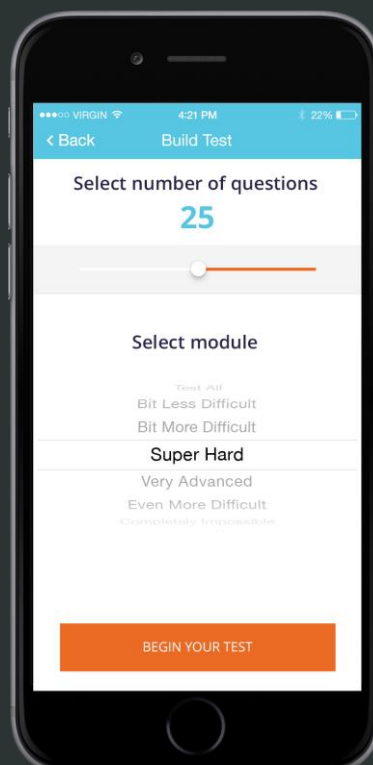

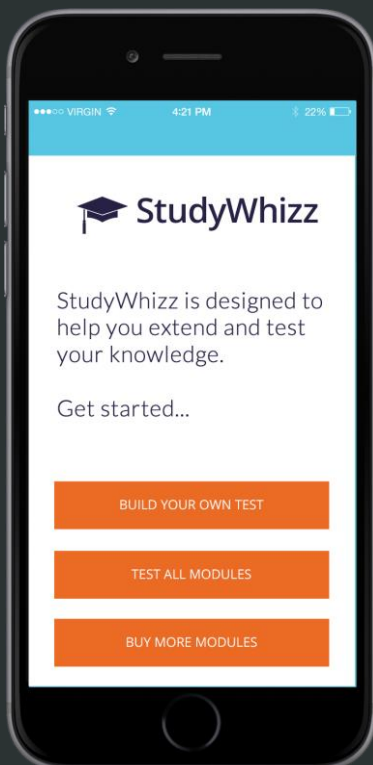

Teaching staff add their own study content which enables their students to design their own tests. Students can buy additional modules to challenge themselves further.

Study anywhere & anytime

The app allows students to access the tests on the go via a smartphone or tablet. These are randomly displayed so each test they take is different from the last, truly assessing their subject knowledge.

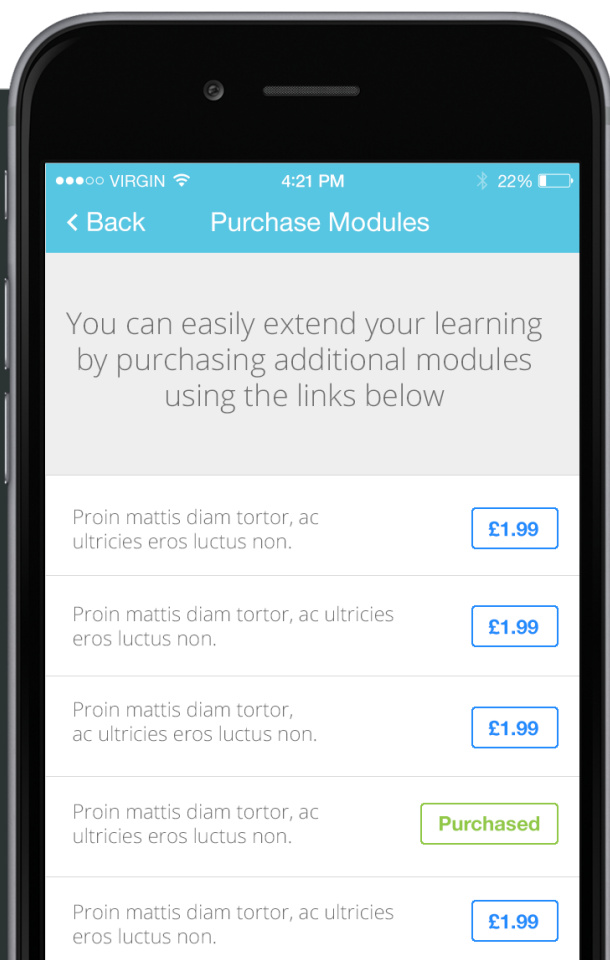

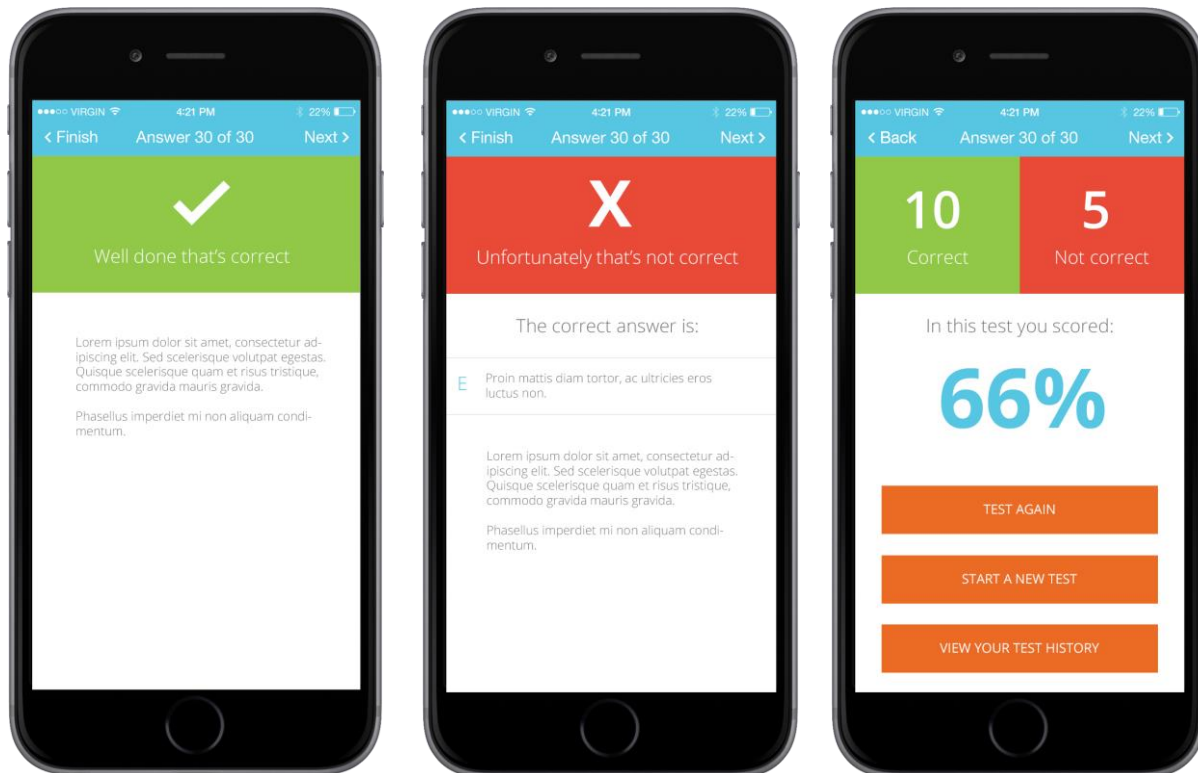

Focus on the right material

It's one thing for your students to study a lot. It's another thing to make progress. The app shows students what they get right and wrong, so they can focus their time on studying material they've not yet mastered.

A dynamic learning tool

Learning is reinforced with supporting information displayed to the student whether they've got answers correct or incorrect. Results are clearly displayed and stored for future reference. Students can test themselves again on the same subject, start a new test or view their test history.

Extended Learning

Students can expand their knowledge by purchasing new modules directly through the app. Modules are written by teaching staff from the institution. The institution then takes a percentage of the profit from the sale of each module they have supplied.

Key benefits

- Customisable test content
- Quick access to test results
- Students can study 'on the go'
- Create multiple modules
- Generate new income streams
